~ 5th-4th Century BC Ancient Greek Arrow Head ~

This is a scarce pattern of the Ancient Greek arrow head due to the fact that this one was fitted with an extra hook on one side.

The remains of the hook are still visible. Its purpose was to prevent the extraction of the arrow head from the body of the victim. If extracted the hook will cause extra bleeding and more injuries to the human tissue.

~ Dimensions ~

The arrowhead is 40 mm long and 7 mm wide.

It weighs 6 grams.

~ Condition ~
